Dasara Film Festival from Sept. 27 to Oct. 3

112 films at two multiplexes

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (RK&BCT)- If you are a film buff, this Dasara could be right up your street as you can watch over 112 films in seven days with nominal prices during Dasara Film Festival from Sept. 27 to Oct. 3.

The festival will also feature workshops on short film making hosted by noted film directors and a short film-making competition.

The to-be-screened films will include foreign films and panorama films in various Indian languages from across the country including Kannada. The main attraction of the film festival will be the movies of Dr. Puneeth Rajkumar, lovingly called 'Appu,' who has left a huge void in the cinema industry with his untimely death.

After his death, his movie 'James' hit the screens and now his fans have no way to enjoy his movies and dances on the big screen. "So we want to fill this gap by dedicating one day of the film festival to Puneeth Rajkumar where his blockbuster movies and movies with a social message will be screened including the famed Bettada Hoovu," T.K. Harish, Assistant Director of Information Department, who is also the Member-Secretary of Dasara Film Festival Sub-Committee, told Star of Mysore this morning.

While the film festival will be inaugurated on Sept. 26, the next day, Sept. 27, will be dedicated to Puneeth Rajkumar. The films during the festival will be screened at DRC Cinemas (B.M. Habitat Mall, Jayalakshmipuram) and INOX (Mall of Mysore, M.G. Road) and four films will be screened on one screen each day.

CM Basavaraj Bommai and Hat-trick Hero Shivarajkumar will inaugurate the film festival on the evening of Sept. 26, he added.

Five-day 'Kaigarika Dasara'

to boost industries from Sept. 26

'Kaigarika Bazaar', industrial visits, vendor development programmes planned

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (GA&BCT)- A five-day 'Kaigarika Dasara' (Industrial Dasara) will be held this year on the lines of 'Raitha Dasara' and 'Grameena Dasara' in order to give a fillip to industrial development in the Mysuru region.

MYSURU DASARA
CELEBRATION SINCE 1610 AD

The mega event will be held from Sept. 26 to Sept. 30 and will be a platform for investors, entrepreneurs and venture capitalists to exchange ideas in a series of educative programmes.

The Mysuru Industries Association (MIA) had urged the District Administration to hold 'Kaigarika Dasara' this year as the 10-day festival will attract many people and start-ups with the celebrations going grand after a gap of two years.

This is for the first time a five-day event has been planned and it may be mentioned here that in 2003-04, a 'Kaigarika Bazaar' was organised as part of Dasara and the event attracted a good response.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

While speaking of nari shakti in the workforce and Vision 2047, PM Modi advocated flexible, work-from-home options to boost women's labour force participation. India is a dismal standout in terms of women's work participation. Oxfam estimated GDP would be higher by 43% if Indian women had the same work participation rates as men. There are many reasons for declining participation, from higher education and rising aspirations to simply fewer jobs to go around. While it may not apply to all kinds of work, the PM's point about flexibility is critical. Women are usually time-poor, forced to work a double shift of housework and care responsibilities. Being handcuffed to a physical workplace is often the reason women are forced to drop out or choose a softer, less rewarding track.

The pandemic has shown how easy it is to allow many kinds of workers to work more productively at their own convenience. But it's crucial to counteract gendered biases too – studies show that remote work tends to stall promotion and career advancement for women. Of course, the home is not exclusively a woman's domain, and any real solution must involve men contributing equally to care and household work. It will also call for greater state or workplace investment in childcare, to make sure that women workers do not have to take a hit to their careers and have the same chances as men.

Man amasses collection of 12,402 different Pepsi cans

Italy : Christian Cavaletti, owner of the world's largest collection of Pepsi cans broke his own Guinness World Record when his current total was verified as including 12,402 different cans. He originally earned the Guinness World Record for largest collection of Pepsi cans in March 2004, when his collection was tallied at 4,391 pieces. Cavaletti said he and his brother, Edoardo, began collecting Pepsi cans in 1989, after becoming enamoured with the Back to the Future trilogy. The brothers collected items related to the films, including a futuristic can of "Pepsi Perfect" from Back to the Future Part II.

The brothers then branched out into collecting Pepsi cans, which now reside in Cavaletti's basement. He said he owns cans from 81 different countries and the oldest dates from 1948 and is now planning to turn his collection into a mini museum.

Long-lost mural found

Georgia: A revitalization group doing work on a narrow building in Georgia made a surprising discovery: a mural that could date back as far as the 1930s. Dream Streets Sparta, a branch of the Hancock County Historic Preservation commission, revealed in a Facebook post that work was being done recently on a narrow building between the Hattaways and Dickens buildings on Broad Street in Sparta when the mural was found.

Karen West, project manager for Dream, said the building was created in 1909 by covering a narrow alleyway. She said the building was a barber shop owned by three generations of the same Black family until it closed in the late 1970s or early 1980s. "I had to sit down and cry happy tears! It was so beautiful and so unexpected," West told about the mural's discovery. "It could've been done as early as the 1930s, it could've been done as late as the 1970s."

West said she is not sure if the mural, a folk art rendition of a landscape, is complete, but it covers both walls of the building.

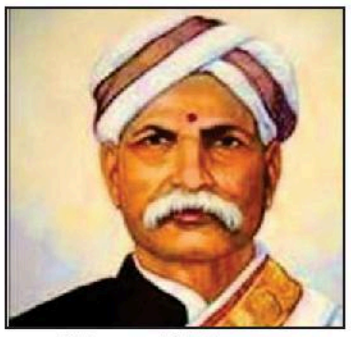
Unveiling of Gana Visharadha Bidaram Krishnappa's portrait and memorial music concert on Sept. 4



Bidaram Krishnappa

Vid. Saket Raman

Mysuru, Sept. 2- Sri Krishna Ganasabha, Mysuru, has organised a programme to unveil Gana Visharadha Legendary Musician Bidaram Krishnappa's portrait on Sept. 4 (Sunday) at 5.30 pm at the Sabha premises in Gokulam 3rd Stage followed by memorial music concert by Vid. Saket Raman.

Dr. N. Chandrashekar, Managing Trustee, Aditya Hospital, will unveil the portrait. B.S. Sridharaj Urs, President, Sri Krishna Ganasabha, will preside.

Vocal concert will be presented by Vid. Saket Raman. He will be accompanied by Vid. Nishanth Chander on violin, Vid. Tumkur B. Ravishankar on mridanga and Vid. Sharath Koushik on ghata.

Profile: Bidaram Krishnappa was a Konkani-speaking Gowda Saraswath Brahmin and a native of Nandalike in Udupi district. When he was a boy he had a chance encounter with a rich businessman who loved music. This happened when hungry Krishnappa, who came from a poor family, was singing a devotional song (devaranama) in a local temple. Impressed with his voice, the merchant sponsored Krishnappa to train under the guidance of a musician called Ramaswamy. He later came under the influence of Tammayya and Veena Sheshanna.

Bidaram Krishnappa is credited with having popularised the singing of Kannada devaranama on stage. He adapted certain concepts of Hindustani music into his Karnatak compositions. For his scholarship in music, he earned the titles "Shudda Swaracharya", "Pallavi Krishnappa" and "Gana Visharada." One of his disciples, T. Chowdiah, went on to become a music legend.

Saket Raman, one of the top performing Karnatak musicians, is a prime disciple of Padma Bhushan Lalgudi Jayaraman. He started learning vocal from late Srirangam Krishnamurthy Rao at the age of 4 and subsequently under late Savitri Satyamurthy. He currently learns rare kirthanas of Trinity and other yesteryear composers from Vid. Nagai Muralidharan; voice culture and Hindustani music from Sangeetha Kalanidhi T.V. Gopalakrishnan.

Tips to make 'Grand Dasara' a memorable one

Sir,

This is regarding KBG's Abracadabra titled "Welcome to Grand Dasara" in SOM dated Aug. 28. I have been in Mysuru for the last 25 years of my life, and I have come to love the beautiful city that it is.

Mysuru, today, for me, is an emotion in more ways than one and the fact that Dasara is an indispensable part of it makes it all the more heavenly.

Because of our 'world famous Dasara' (yes, we should take pride in this), every year, there is a massive influx of tourists, domestic and international, into the city. However, the problem is, that the city is not equipped enough to cater to the growing number of tourists every year.

Of course, there are really good restaurants, and hotels, and the city itself is so welcoming that everybody feels at home, but it gets very crowded especially during Ayudha Puja and Vijayadashami that it is almost impossible to go around the city without getting stuck in traffic for hours.

It almost turns into Bengaluru during Dasara, and the rains make it worse. The bad roads never help. Mysureans would rather stay at home than get stuck somewhere.

If the problem of traffic and parking near major tourist attractions could be addressed, it would make Dasara even more enjoyable. Traffic rules go for a toss, and this creates more problems. Two-wheelers haphazardly manoeuvre their way, and this goes unchecked every year.

A proper push (with some incentives, perhaps) should be given to the use of city buses to avoid personal cars on the roads. This reduces so much traffic.

Even if people wish to walk around, there should be enough manpower to make sure it is not disrupted. Private vehicles should not be allowed to go too close to major spots like the Palace and the Zoo, and the use of public transport should be encouraged. Taking selfies and pictures during illumination has been trending over the last few years, and this should be kept under control.

Dasara has something for everyone, and it should be a memorable affair, and it could only be one when the aforementioned issues are addressed.

Going forward, regardless of whether we like it or not, the city will expand, and these problems have to be expediently addressed lest we turn Mysuru into another Bengaluru.

Police to seek Murugha Mutt pontiff's custody

Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru develops health complications in jail; taken to hospital

Chitradurga, Sept. 2 (UNI& Agencies)- The chief pontiff of Sri Murugha Mutt, Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru, accused of sexually assaulting minors, was arrested last night. The arrest was confirmed by Alok Kumar, ADGP, Law and Order.

The pontiff was questioned at an undisclosed location by Deputy Superintendent of Police Anil Kumar, who is also the investigation officer in the case. The investigation team detained Rashmi, the hostel warden and the second accused in the case.

This morning, the pontiff was taken to the district hospital after he developed some health complications in jail. Police sources said the seer was questioned for several hours after his arrest. He reportedly developed some health complications soon after he was sent to jail.

Accordingly, he was taken to the district hospital for a check-up. Soon after his arrest, Sharanaru, who has been booked under provisions of the Protection Of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act for sexually abusing two high school girls, was produced before a local Court, which remanded him to 14 days' judicial custody, Chitradurga Superintendent of Police K. Parashuram told reporters.

Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru

Along with the pontiff, four others have been booked with one person working at the 'Santvana Kendra' (counselling centre by the Directorate of Women and Child Development Department), while another one has been arrested.

Two others are still at large for whom a search is on, Police sources said. Parashuram said the Police would apply for his custody for more questioning.

The arrest comes in the wake of a massive uproar over the issue with allegations being raised that the Basavaraj Bommai-led Government is not doing enough. The top religious leader has been booked under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO) for alleged sexual abuse of two high school girls.

Advocates write to HC

Political parties in the poll-bound State have so far trod carefully on the charges against Sharanaru. A group of advocates has written to the Registrar General of the Karnataka High Court claiming that the investigation against the accused seer "is not being carried out in an unbiased, free and fair manner."

"He (the seer) has not even been summoned for investigation or his medical examination conducted. These lacunas in the investigation show that there is already prejudice caused on part of the investigation," the letter claimed.

The group of advocates called for immediate intervention of the High Court in monitoring the ongoing inquiry of the case in the interest of justice, so as to ensure fair and free investigations. "The accused herein being an influential person not even being summoned by the investigating officer, let alone being arrested is utterly shocking," the letter said.

Sharanaru, who had applied for anticipatory bail on Monday, was additionally charged under the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes (Prevention of Atrocities) Act as one of the two victims was from the SC community.

Girl found murdered at a private hotel in city

Accused arrested, brought to MMC&RI for medical tests

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (RK&KS)- A 21-year-old girl was found murdered at a private hotel on Hunsur Road here yesterday morning and the Police have arrested the accused (the girl's lover) in the wee hours of today. The accused had gone absconding after committing the crime. The Cops have brought the accused to the Forensic Science Department of MMC&RI for medical tests. The deceased has been identified as Apoorva Shetty (21), daughter of Ravi of Haralahalli village in Periyapatna taluk. She was pursuing her final year engineering course at a private college in city and was staying at a Paying Guest (PG) accommodation in Vijayanagar here. The accused, while taking the hotel room on rent had given his name as 26-year-old Ashish of Hinkal village.

Apoorva and Ashish had taken the room on the send floor of the hotel on rent on Aug. 29 night and yesterday at about 7.30 am, Ashish went out of the hotel alone. As he did not come even in the afternoon, the hotel staff, who knew that the girl was alone, grew suspicious as she did not come out of the room even for breakfast or lunch. She had not even ordered food to the room.

Deceased Apoorva Shetty and accused Ashish

The hotel staff then called the room through the intercom but the calls were unanswered following which the staff peeped inside the room only to find the girl lying motionless and informed the hotel manager, who in turn informed the jurisdictional Devaraja Police.

Devaraja Inspector Diwakar and staff, who rushed to the hotel, got the room opened only to find her dead. Blood had oozed out from the girl's nose and there was froth in her mouth. The body was shifted to MMC&RI mortuary for post-mortem. Based on the complaint from the girl's parents, Devaraja Police, who had registered a case, began their investigation and arrested the accused in the wee hours of today, Police sources said.

It is learnt that the girl's parents after coming to know about her love affair had fought with Ashish and had also warned Apoorva and Ashish to stay away from each other, but the two had continued meeting each other. The reason for Ashish to murder Apoorva will be known only after the Police complete their investigation.

JD(S) works out plans for bagging Mayor's post

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (RKB&DM)- With the MCC Mayoral polls just four days away (Sept. 6), political activities in all the three major political parties have gained momentum.

The JD(S), which ruled the MCC in coalition with the Congress for the first two terms of the current tenure of the MCC and let the post go to the BJP for the third term, is now evolving plans to bag the top post for the last term.

Party's K.R. Nagar MLA S.R. Mahesh has taken the lead in working out strategies and held a meeting with JD(S) Corporators at a private Hotel here on Thursday, a day after Ganesh Chaturthi. The JD(S) has multiple candidates for the top post, who include SBM Manju, K.V. Sridhar, Bhagya Mahadesh, M.D. Nagaraj and Prema Shankaregowda.

Addressing the party workers, S.R. Mahesh said that as agreed last year, the BJP has to support the JD(S) this time. Pointing out that the JD(S) can bag the Mayor's post easily if the BJP supports the party, he said that the list of aspirants will be sent to the JD(S) top brass.

The Mayor's post has been reserved for General Category and Deputy Mayor post for BCA (Woman).

MLC C.N. Manjegowda, former MLC K.T. Srikantegowda, Mysuru City JD(S) President K.T. Cheluvegowda, former Mayors R. Lingappa and M.J. Ravikumar, former Corporator Mahadesh, leaders K.V. Mallesh, Abdullah, Paduvarahalli Somu and others too attended the meeting.

Later speaking to pressperSons, Mahesh urged the BJP to reciprocate the JD(S) gesture of indirectly helping the party to bag the Mayor's post for the first time ever last year.

Contending that the BJP could not have won the Mayor's post if JD(S) had continued its alliance with the Congress, he expressed hope that the BJP would keep its word this time and support the JD(S). Asking the BJP to understand the ground realities at a time when no party has the strength of its own to bag the Mayor's post, Mahesh asserted that, however, the JD(S) has so far not asked any BJP leader for support.

Maintaining that this time the BJP cannot reap the benefit if the JD(S) remains neutral as was the case last time, Mahesh said that this would only be advantageous to the Congress as its number has increased this time with wins in MLC polls. In case of a triangular contest, the Congress could become the winner as the BJP cannot bag the post on its own, he argued.

Expressing confidence that the BJP would support the JD(S) for the Mayor's post, Mahesh said that in turn, the JD(S) would leave the Deputy Mayor's post to the BJP as a reciprocal gesture.

A tale of two scandalous news items: Stray thoughts

Once upon a time there was a wandering monk, obviously in the ancient land of Bharath. Just as the Hindu holy scripture Veda has no name of its author or authors, this monk, the Holy Man, too did not have a personal name but had fame. As a wandering monk, he was moving from place to place giving spiritual discourses for a few months in each place.

While he was camping at one village giving discourse, in the midst of his discourse, a young girl and her parents with some elders of the village interrupted the discourse. They complained to the congregation that the Holy Man was responsible for her pregnancy. When the devotees of the Holy Man asked for the proof, the parents said it was their daughter who had said so.

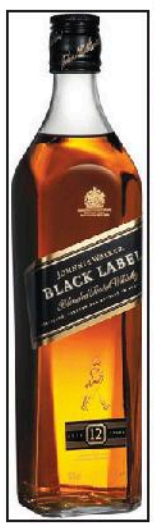
If that was so, let us ask the Holy Man himself whether he was responsible for her pregnancy. The Holy Man, seeing the doubting congregation and the agitated complainants, said that what the girl alleged was true and would take whatever punishment they would give.

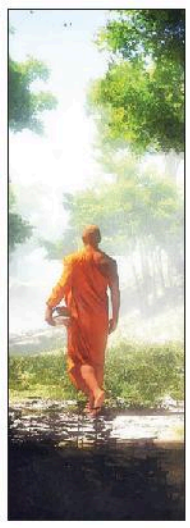
It was then decided that the Holy Man take the responsibility for the girl's care and future. The Holy Man agreed and the girl also agreed to stay in the Holy Monk's ashram in that place.

After a few months, as expected, the girl delivered a baby, a beautiful bonny boy. Everybody was happy and celebrating. Then suddenly, a young handsome boy broke into the Ashram and began to cuddle the child, enthralled and in great joy. In everybody's presence, ecstatically and spontaneously, he exclaimed loudly, "My baby, my son."

The mother of the child too was happy to see her lover to the dismay of the people gathered there. The truth was out. The Wandering Monk too was happy to be relieved of the false allegation and the stigma he was carrying.

I also remembered one of the world's best short stories titled 'Rain' by British writer William Somerset Maugham. Here one of the main characters Miss





Sadie Thompson, apparently of loose virtue, utters the last words in the presence of Mrs. Davidson, whose missionary husband was found killed on the beach. Addressing a man who was with Mrs. Davidson, she said: "You men! You filthy, dirty pigs! You are all the same, all of you."

The parable and Somerset Maugham's short story 'Rain' came to my mind as I was reading the news about alleged sexual assault in the POCSO case registered against the highly revered Murugharaja Mutt Seer Sri Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru in Chitradurga. Time alone will reveal the truth after the Law Court gives the judgement.

Another news item is about money laundering case registered by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) against Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia and others. The allegation was 'irregularities' in the formulation of Excise (liquor) policy and money changing hands for financially benefiting private liquor business.

As we know, drinking alcohol and debauchery are considered despicable and immoral conduct by anyone. But here, in this liquor policy scandal, it is corruption which is being alleged.

When Anna Hazare realised that there was too much corruption in the administration in the year 2011, he protested and sat on a dharna in Delhi and even went on a hunger strike. At that time, Arvind Kejriwal, the social activist with Ramon Magsaysay Award for Emergent Leadership under his belt, rather up his sleeves, joined the protest. It was at that time, the ruling Congress and the Opposition BJP mocked at Kejriwal asking him to form a political party and politically fight corruption. The man took it as a challenge and see where he is today.

Unfortunately, as the saying goes, 'power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely.' When Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) conquered Punjab in the last election, Kejriwal and his Ministers seem to have become over-confident and the result could be seen in the way they took decisions. Like for example, in the matter of issuing liquor licences.

Among the State's revenue generating departments, Excise Department is a very important one. Naturally there is much scope for corruption too. AAP Government, headed by Kejriwal and his much visible and influential Deputy CM Manish Sisodia who is also incharge of Excise Department, might have thought they could outwit the past masters who have handled this Department earlier before AAP came to power. But they are wrong.

Here we recall the epiphany: Set a thief to catch a thief. That is what actually happened to Manish Sisodia. Poor Sisodia, being new to political office, is yet to master the fine art of corruption. Those who know Indian politicians and politics are not surprised by this development. More so, when it is election time in Gujarat and AAP is venturing to repeat another Punjab here.

And finally I am tempted to twist the legal bombast of the former Supreme Court Justice V.R. Krishna Iyer who, like an oracle, said that in criminal cases 'bail is the rule and jail is the exception'. In the context of these two scandalous news reports we can say that 'corruption is the rule and honesty is the exception. Here corruption may be read as of money and morals. Alleluia.

"Waiter, get me one for the road. Let me walk out with my friend Johnnie Walker!"

The District Industries Centre (DIC) has already begun preparations for the 'Kaigarika Dasara' and as per the feedback from the MIA and other stakeholders, this year too, a 'Kaigarika Bazaar' will be organised at Dasara Exhibition Grounds for 90 days where manufacturers can sell their products directly to customers from Sept. 26.

Industrial visits

According to the MIA, Mysuru and its surroundings have over 2,500 industries manufacturing diverse products and Nanjangud has top industries, including MNCs. It is pertinent to hold 'Kaigarika Dasara' having such an industrial ecosystem and as part of the event, visits to industries can also be arranged, the Association reasoned.

During these industrial visits, the niche factories that produce products that have a Mysuru brand can be covered such as Mysore Silk Factory, Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited, the only factory that manufactures indelible ink, the MIA said in its representation to the District Administration.

Following the demand placed by the MIA, the DIC has decided to organise industrial tours for two days to show the Dasara tourists around 2,500 industries that produce globally renowned products like producing tissue paper for daily use, banknote paper, spare parts for vehicles, electronics and ready-made goods, Mysore Silk Factory, Mysore Sandal Factory and Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited, DIC Joint Director T. Dinesh told Star of Mysore.

Seminar on industrial policy

The 'Kaigarika Dasara' will be organised under five topics including exports, women entrepreneurs, SC/ST industrialists and their opportunities. A two-day seminar will be organised at Vignana Bhavan in Manasagangothri campus to inform entrepreneurs about the Government's policy for industrial development and vendor development programme.

"More than 15 Government Departments and banks will disseminate information about ease of doing business. Senior representatives from the Government and from establishments including Bharat Earth Movers Limited (BEML) and Rare Materials Plant (RMP) will guide the industrialists, small and medium enterprises and prospective exporters on the export policies and the available avenues," Dinesh said.

A vendor development programme will be organised on Sept. 28 in the premises of the Mysuru Chamber of Commerce and Industries at Hebbal that will bring together product manufacturers and buyers where products will be displayed in exhibitions. "All the events will encourage start-ups and will bring in more investments to Mysuru, he added.

Reminiscences of Mysore City and Dasara Celebrations –2

Police Training School (Police Training College), Mysuru.

Illuminated Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Circle (Hardinge Circle) during Dasara.

By H.K. Shivananda, IAS (Retd.)

Student hostels

Apart from well-known college hostels like Maharaja's, Maharani's and Medical College Hostels, there were several community-based free or concessional-rated hostels like Muslim Hostel at Saraswathipuram, Madhwa Boys Hostel at Chamarajapuram, well-known Anathalaya started by Thathayya, Suttur Hostel on Vanivilas Road (open to all communities), Bettadapura Hostel, Siddappa Hostel at Siddappa Square, Government-run Chamundeshwari Hostel for SC/ST boys near Hotel Metropole, Kabballi Hostel for Veerashaiva students on payment, etc.

Many people who came up in life and reached top positions both in India and abroad have come up from these hostels and Mysore became a hub for education mainly because of these facilities. Though the hostels were based on communities, the best of friends came from different hostels and there was no hatred or animosity against each other. The atmosphere was always cordial and peaceful.

Jalpuri and Nazarbad

Since my father was posted as Principal of Police Training College (PTC), Mysore, between 1955-57, as a student I had the privilege of staying in my father's official residence in the front row of the Police quarters Jalpuri facing Hyder Ali Road. PTC, as it was known then, was training only Police Constables and PSIs.

It has expanded in a big way as a Police Academy now cutting into some space of the Government House compound as well. This Police Colony in Mysore was built by Maharaja before 1947 to accommodate and use by the Maharaja's Infantry and was popular as "HHMOI" (His Highness Maharaja's Own Infantry) quarters.

Though later I moved out of Mysore for a job, my father stayed in Nazarbad after he retired from service in 1957 till 1966. As such, my association with Mysore continued. Sowcar Channaiah, a Veteran Congress leader and king-maker in Congress Party before 1956, was in Nazarbad.

The Sowcar Channaiah's Mansion built in 1907, the Institute of Education Building next to it, the Ursu Boarding School for Girls, CPC Bus Owner Building (now it is a hotel) on the Nazarbad Main Road were all important landmarks of Nazarbad.

Even though it is used either as a hotel or hostel now, the mansion of Sowcar Channaiah has not been altered much and it continues to be an important heritage building. Nazarbad has now become famous for Mylari Hotel and its Dosa, eclipsing the Set Dosa of Raju Hotel at Agrahara which we never missed.

Hardinge Circle, the Gateway to Nazarbad extension from Palace side, was earlier known as Arugate Circle (Six Gates) and was a big attraction in the evenings to witness the illuminated colourful water fountain. It has now given way to installing Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Statue in memory of the last ruler of Wadiyar dynasty at the most appropriate place, standing in a straight line with statues of earlier rulers on the same road.

Dasara glory in fifties and sixties

Even though royalty gave way to a democratic Government in 1948, the 10-day celebrations of the Dasara festival continued in a subdued way making adjustments to the changed set-up and retaining the prominent role of the royal family.

The Vijayadashami procession and Torchlight parade are the main attractions. Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, who was designated as Rajapramukh of Mysore State till 1956, Governor of reorganised State of Mysore (Karnataka) till 1964 and Governor of Madras till 1966, continued to be the focal point of Mysore Dasara Celebrations till 1969.

With the abolition of the privy purse and royal titles in 1970 by the Government of India, Jayachamaraja Wadiyar stopped his participation in Dasara celebrations in public and continued his rituals and Private Durbar inside the Palace. What pain he must have undergone at that time. But he never showed it outside. He died in 1974.

No doubt, attempts were made to continue the legacy of Dasara and Jumboo Savari etc., after 1970 by a well-meaning group of prominent citizens under the leadership of Jayadevaraj Urs, MLA/MLC, Mysore, it was not a success for a variety of reasons. At best it could be described as a poor shadow of Dasara of earlier years.

61st Heritage Music Festival at 8th Cross V.V. Mohalla from Aug. 31 to Sept. 11

Judicious balance of aesthetics and grammar

Shantakumar, Director, The Printers and Publishers of Deccan Herald and Prajavani, lighting the lamp during the inauguration of the 61st Heritage Music Festival with Ganeshotsava organised by Sri Prasanna Vidya Ganapathi Mandali Charitable (SPVGMC) Trust at 8th Cross, V.V. Mohalla last evening as Jagannath Shenoy, President, SPVGMC Trust, Vasu, former MLA and patron, SPVGMC Trust, C.R. Himamshu, Secretary, SPVGMC Trust and Ramesh Narasaiah, Assistant Commissioner, Commercial Tax, Mysuru, look on. Picture right shows Akkarai Sisters — Vidushis Akkarai Subhalakshmi and Akkarai Swarnalatha —presenting a violin recital following the inauguration. They were accompanied by Vid. K.U. Jayachandra Rao (mridanga), Vid. Vazhappally Krishnakumar (ghata) and others.

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Akkarai Sisters Subhalakshmi and Swarnalatha are among India's most distinguished musicians today. Their soulful music won the hearts of the music lovers on the second day of 8th Cross Ganapathi music festival. The Sisters' rich music background and the rigorous training under renowned gurus such as Sri Janakiraman, Padma Bhushan P.S. Narayanaswamy and Chitraveena N. Ravikiran have given them the unique distinction of being the foremost musicians in the field in both vocal music and violin.

On 1st September, T.M. Krishna's vocal concert was announced but as the artiste reportedly had a sore throat, the Akkarai Sisters performed in his place. Seasoned as they are, they needed no preparation. In each of the compositions that they played, a judicious balance of aesthetics and grammar could be discerned.

The concert began late as the inaugural ceremony was held prior to the concert yesterday. The music series was inaugurated by Shantakumar, Director, The Printers and Publishers of Deccan Herald and Prajavani.

Ramesh Narasaiah, Assistant Commissioner, Commercial Tax, Mysuru, was honoured. Jagannath Shenoy, President, SPVGMC Trust, presided. Ex-MLA Vasu was present.

The Sisters commenced the concert with kanada Varna 'Neranammitinayya' by Poochi Srinivasa Iyengar, the pallavi and anupallavi of which were played in three speeds, followed by a brisk charana. The second composition was a salutation to Lord Rama 'Jaya Jaya Jaya Janakikanta' in Nata by Purandaradasaru, suffixed with crisp swaras. Tyagaraja Pancharatna in Gowla 'Dudukugala' was a welcome piece after which Poorvikalyani, one of the main items for the evening was taken up by Swarnalatha, the younger of the two sisters. While 'Mariveere' in Anandabhairavi was rendered with melody and essence, Tyagaraja's 'maniviyala' in Nalinakanti was played in spirit followed by speedy swaras.

Vid. Rangaswamy presenting a Nagaswara recital on Wednesday (Aug. 31) evening as a prelude to the 61st Heritage Music Festival. He was accompanied by Keshava Mohan (violin), Vid. R. Nagesh (tavil) and Vid. Sai Shivu (mridanga) and others. The Music Festival, which began from the day of Ganesha Chaturthi on Aug. 31, will continue till Sept. 11. The concerts start at 6.45 pm daily.

The main attraction of the concert was the RTP for which the sisters chose Kharaharapriya. Subhalakshmi played the alapana exhaustively, wherein the swara by swara development of the raga was meticulous. The tana, which included shanmukhapriya, was also accompanied by Jayachandra Rao's mridanga prompted by Himamshu, which pleased the audience. The lyrics of the Pallavi 'Sureshwaram Ganeshwaram Maheshwaram Tamaashraye nirantaram' was set to aditala.

Without much elaboration, the siblings speedily took to swarakalpana followed by ragamalika swaras in Ranjani, Valachi, Bindumalini and Varamu. Varieties of swaras alternated by each player led to a suitable muktaya giving way to taniyavartanam by Jayachandra Rao's mridanga and Vazhapalli Krishnakumar's ghata. Jayachandra Rao excelled in his playing. The listeners were thrilled when he played the arohana and avarohana swaras of Kharaharapriya in his playing.

DKP's popular 'Teeryada Vilayatu pillai' of Bharateeyar in ragamalika was played post taniyavartanam on Himamshu's request after which the concert concluded with a tillana of Lalgudi Jayaraman in Maand.

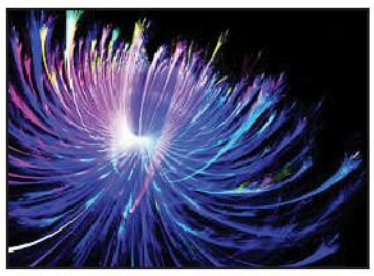
WORD OF THE DAY

Effulgence



Pronunciation: ih-FULL-junss.
Meaning: Effulgence means "radiant splendor" or "brilliance."
Origin: Need a shiny word to bust out at your next disco party, planetarium visit, or fireworks gathering? How about effulgence? It's not a shiny "new" word, having made its English language debut in the 17th century, but it does come from the Latin verb fulgēre, meaning "to shine." Effulgence isn't used for bog-standard brightness, however; it's reserved for shininess that dazzles, inspires, leaves you gobsmacked—in other words, "radiant splendor."
Example: "His oil portrait silently observed us. His brother Robert who painted it didn't go for the obvious choice and recreate Dad's life-of-the-party effulgence, but instead captured his pensive look, as if he's listening intensely to what you are asking, and he may or may not answer you." — Jamie Brickhouse

THE ODD WORD

Study of church affairs.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Easier said than done

Meaning: The phrase 'Easier Said than Done' is said of a task that is easier to talk about than to do.
Origin: Like so many popular sayings, the origin of the idiom 'easier said than done' can be found in venerable literature. This common expression was first seen in print in the Terentius Afer's 1483 book, Vulgaria Terentii, and was worded in the language of the day as: "It is easyer to saye than to do."
Example:"Finding a good job is easier said than done."
